

THE LEGENDARY

LAST J-TIME

Fer once Our Hero actually did some good.
He volunteered himself ta help the Longbow fer an 8 hour shift.

On this second hour he got a mission ta free some packages from the Arachnos. Ya know how the J-Man loves ta git his mitts on them packages.
So far it seems like his time here has been well spent.

Aight listen. I'se been here fer two hours now.

When in pie is you mooks gonna gimme somethin real ta do.

u w4nt a mi5h?

YEA!

Whoa, looks like the spiders infested this longbow base. Good thing I brought this bottle of ...

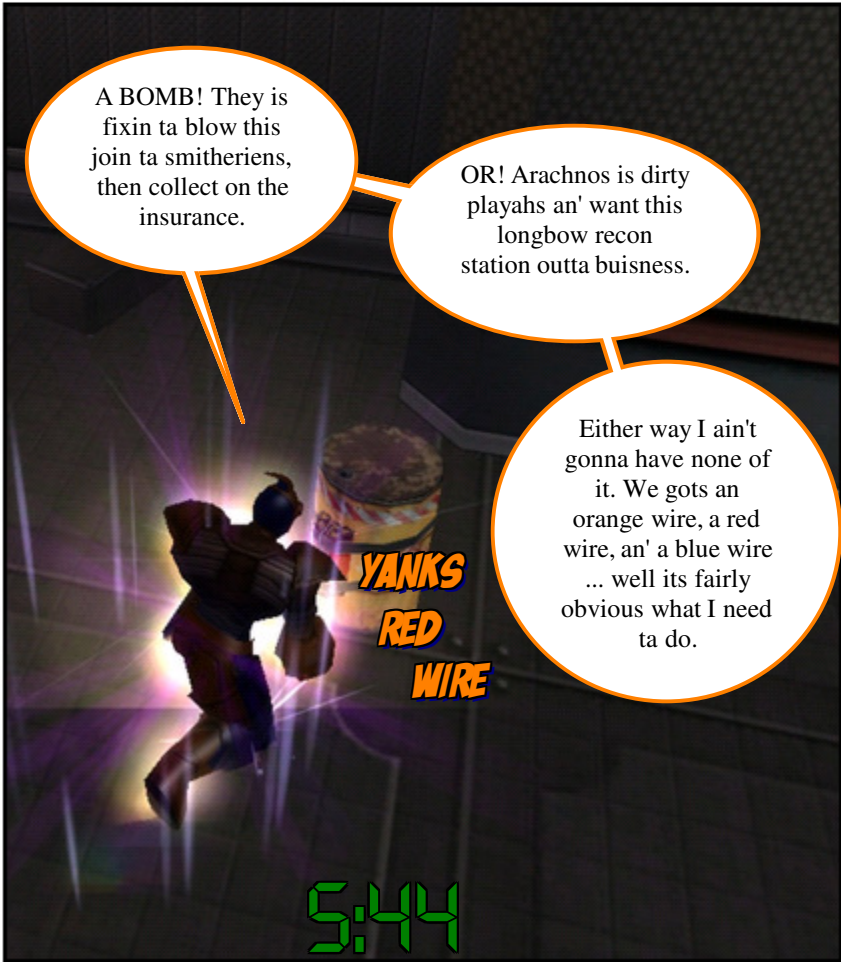

J-FORCE STYLE!!!

The fight was a tuff one, but really, against the J-Man? The real problem was what he found afta the fight.

A BOMB! They is fixin ta blow this join ta smitheriens, then collect on the insurance.

OR! Arachnos is dirty playahs an' want this longbow recon station outta buisness.

Either way I ain't gonna have none of it. We gots an orange wire, a red wire, an' a blue wire ... well its fairly obvious what I need ta do.

Afta findin that first bomb, like the J-Man he is, he took the fight thru the entire buildin. The more Arachnos he fought the more certain he was of what was goin on.

Wot? You tink we's gonna blow up this place?

Oy, we was given a job mister, an' we plan on finishin' the job.

It was a blow job! But J-Man didn't like how it felt. Even thou they would go down quickly, each time he came to what he thought was the end, the explosion wasn't there.
